The River Rises Rapidly and Considerable Damage is Feared - Two Cotton Mills Stop Work. .

PETERSBURG, VA., August 4.-Special.-This city and vicinity was visited to-day about 11 o'clock by the heaviest rain known in this section for some years. It came down for half an hour or more as if from a cloud-burst,

Some of the streets were covered with water from curb to curb, and the cellars of many dwellings were flooded. Reports received here from the country are to the effect that the rain was a very heavy one, and the roads in some places are perfect pools of water. The streams are all much swollen and it is expected that many small bridges will be washed away by the freshet.

Exonerating Colonel Jones.

WISE COURTHOUSE, VA., August 4.— Special.—A letter has just been received from Mr. A. M. Rogers, who about month ago was taken from his hotel at Coeburn, Wise county, by an infurlated mob and severely beaten.

Mr. Rogers was subsequently informed that Colonel H. C. Jones, of Bristol, Tenn., was one of the mob, and had him indicted by the grand jury. Since then he has become convinced that he was mistaken and did Colonel Jones an injus tice. He therefore wrote the letter, which reads as follows:

I desire to say, in justice to Colonel H. C. Jones, of Bristol, Tenn., who was indicted, with thirteen others, at the recent term of this county court for the most brutal and outrageous assault made upon me at Coeburn, in this county, that he, Colonel Jones, was indicted under the following circumstances—to-wit: I described a man, a stranger to me, who was very active and cruel in the outrage. and the parties to whom I gave the description told me it was H. C. Jones, of Bristol; therefore I gave Jones' name to the grand jury as one of my assailants, believing at the time I did so that I had been correctly informed of the name of the person I had described, hence the in lictment against him. I did not know Colonel Jones myself. Upon hearing of he indictment Colonel Jones came from Bristol to see me yesterday, and at once I saw he was not the man I had described and that his indicament was a mistake I at once directed my attorneys to dis-miss all proceedings, both civil and criminal, against Colonel Jones.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE.

Started for Washington. FALL RIVER, MASS., August 4.- The President put in a full day's rest to-day at Gray Gables, in order that he might be better able to stand the long and continuous trip to Washington. Secreta-ries Carlisle and Lamont were with him. The Presidential party boarded the 4:45 house fixed up with a punching bag, and for half an hour every day he works the bag and sometimes dons the mittens with Hall. A Mysterious Death.

NASHVILLE, August 4.—John R. Square was found dead beside the Louisville and Nashville railroad track, near Fountain, this morning, with a deep cut in his head. He is a member of the firm of Louisville contractors, H. H. Square & Co., who are constructing a tunne Brighton: to-day he's down to about 190, and will probably enter the ring at 130. Charley's face shows hard work; all the fat and puffy flesh is gone. His eyes are clear and bright. He seems to be as limber as a cat, and as hard as nails. In fact, Mitchell is fit to fight at present if he was obliged to Mitchell really started to train the morning after he sailed from New York. He has not drank anything of any account, and at present confines himself to a pint of champagne or a bottle of bass at dinner. I have never near the place where the body was found, The death may have been caused by a fall from a train, but the cause is thought to have been murder and robbery.

Several of the members of the mob were also indicted.
